Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 15 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Breezy but mild with sunny spells.

Today:
A grey, in places foggy, start, with some patches slow to clear in the northwest of the region, followed by a dry and bright day with sunny spells. Feeling mild with a fresh breeze. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear spells at first this evening, but cloud and rain arriving from the southwest later. Further showery outbreaks of rain overnight, locally heavy. Breezy, but much milder. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
A murky start with rain clearing the region by mid-morning, followed by a largely dry and bright period. Heavy showers sweep across during the afternoon, easing later. Breezy throughout. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Rain clears Wednesday morning, leaving sunny spells and blustery showers. Further rain overnight into Thursday, with showers and sunshine during the day. Light rain Friday. Mild and windy throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.